Association of Corporate Patent Counsel

Dear January Meeting Attendees:

We are happy that you have registered to attend the Association of Corporate Patent Counsel's 2011 Winter Meeting in Naples. All of our plans are in place for a terrific meeting. Naples is a great city offering palm trees, miles of white sandy beaches, and spectacular sunsets.

I am very happy to announce details of our Professional Program, which include speakers:

- Honorable Randall Rader, Chief Judge, CAFC

We will also have moderated discussions on Hot Topics and Trends in IP, University Tech Transfer, Evolving Role of Chief IP Counsel, Benchmarking/Quality Management, as well as a Discussion from the Bench with our distinguished panelists:

- Honorable Kimberly Moore, Circuit Judge, CAFC,
- Honorable Kathleen O'Malley, Circuit Judge, CAFC, and
- Honorable Sharon Prost, Circuit Judge, CAFC.

Carl Horton has arranged the Monday golf scrambles tournament and open play on Tuesday at the Naples Grande Golf Club. Tennis on Tuesday afternoon has been arranged at the Naples Grande Tennis Club by Jon Wood. If you wish to strike out on your own, in addition to the white sandy beaches, Naples offers over 100 galleries, and was recently named the #1 Small Art Town in America.

Our meetings provide an opportunity for you to meet and get to know your peers. It is probably our most important member benefit. Please keep a look out for new ACPC Members who will be wearing red ribbons. I look forward to seeing you!

Very truly,

Inger H. Eckert
President

Association of Corporate Patent Counsel

2011 Winter Meeting

Speaker Biographies

Speaker Information for Monday, January 24 (in order of appearance)

Inger Eckert, *ACPC President, Chief Counsel Intellectual Property, International Paper

Ms. Inger Eckert is Chief Counsel, Intellectual Property for International Paper Company, a global leader in the paper and packaging industry with manufacturing locations in North America, Europe, Latin America, Asia and North Africa and net sales over $23 billion in 2009. Her role encompasses leadership responsibility for the Intellectual Property Section of the Law Department as well as strategy development and execution with respect to International Paper's global intellectual property portfolio, including the acquisition, enforcement and licensing of the company's patents, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets. Ms. Eckert serves on the leadership team of the Law Department and as legal advisor to the company's Technology organization.

Prior to joining International Paper in 2008, Ms. Eckert worked for Owens Corning, a $5 billion (2007) global leader in building and composite materials, for over 12 years. Her Owens Corning career started as Intellectual Property Counsel for the Composites Systems Business and advanced to Director of Intellectual Property, a role she served in for over 10 years. Before joining Owens Corning in 1995, Ms. Eckert was a product design engineer and intellectual property attorney at Ford Motor Company.

Ms. Eckert earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering Technology from The Pennsylvania State University and her Juris Doctorate, cum laude, from the University of Dayton School of Law. Ms. Eckert, a registered patent attorney, is the current President for the Association of Corporate Patent Counsel, and is a member of the Michigan and Ohio state bars.

Katherine Lutton, *Principal and Global Head of Litigation, Fish & Richardson P.C.

Principal Kathi Lutton leads and tries high-profile, high-stakes, and high-tech patent litigation in a myriad of technologies, including semiconductor technology, telecommunications, circuits and systems, computer technology, software, and Internet applications. She advises clients ranging from Fortune 100 companies to start-ups on their portfolios, patent protection, patent enforcement, patent defensive efforts, patent prosecution, and other intellectual property matters. Ms. Lutton works closely with clients to devise inventive ways of achieving optimal success. Inside and outside of the courtroom, Ms. Lutton is often called upon as an expert on case strategy and hot topics in the law.

Ms. Lutton also leads the firm's litigation group and is a member of the firm's Operations Committee. She manages the firm's largest practice group of 250 lawyers in 11 offices worldwide. She also oversees Fish's commercial litigation group, which currently tries some of the most high profile cases in the country. The commercial group represents clients from Sprint to the Dallas Mavericks and has represented clients in some of the highest-stakes litigation in the country, in such cases as the WorldCom and Enron Securities lawsuits, and the pending 9/11 Litigation. Ms. Lutton has also guided firm strategy through her service on the firm's Management Committee.

Ms. Lutton has received numerous accolades for her work, most recently being listed in the 2010 Super Lawyers Corporate Counsel Edition, listed as one California's Top 100 Lawyers of 2008 by the Daily Journal, and listed on the Daily Journal's list of 50 Leading Intellectual Property Litigators in California (2008) and the Daily Journal's list of the 75 Leading Intellectual Property Litigators in California (2009 & 2010). Ms. Lutton was also recognized by the Daily Journal in 2007, 2008 and 2009 as one of the Top Women Litigators in the State of California, won the 2007 Women of Distinction Award in the "Law" category, presented by the Silicon Valley/San Jose Business Journal, was distinguished as one of the "Forty under Forty People to Watch" in Silicon Valley by the Silicon Valley/San Jose Business Journal, was recognized by the Silicon Valley/San Jose Business Journal as a Woman of Influence in Silicon Valley (2008), and was recognized by the San Francisco Business Times as one of the Most Influential Women in the Bay Area (2008). Ms. Lutton was also one of five 2008 Legal Momentum Women of Achievement Honorees and was ranked in the Chambers 2008 Guide for America's Leading Lawyers for Business as a Leader in Intellectual Property. Ms. Lutton is recognized as a Northern California Super Lawyer (2009 and 2010). Ms. Lutton also serves on the Board of Directors of the Federal Circuit Bar Association.

Ms. Lutton brings to the table five years of industry experience as a systems and software design engineer with General Electric, where she graduated from the prestigious Edison Engineering Program and co-designed one of the first leading edge expert systems (neural networks, fuzzy logic) for aircraft application. Through the rotational management program, Ms. Lutton designed aircraft control systems which are currently employed on military aircraft. She also led design teams in a number of departments (software design, systems design, hardware design, research & development, manufacturing) that gave her broad exposure to industry. Ms. Lutton's technical background includes a solid background in mathematical physics and programming, combined with a bachelors and masters in electrical engineering.

Honorable Kimberly Moore, *Circuit Judge, CAFC

Kimberly A. Moore was appointed by President George W. Bush in 2006. Prior to her appointment, Judge Moore was a Professor of Law from 2004-2006 and Associate Professor of Law from 2000-2004 at the George Mason University School of Law. She was an Assistant Professor of Law at the University of Maryland School of Law from 1999-2000. She served both as an Assistant Professor of Law from 1997-1999 and the Associate Director of the Intellectual Property Law Program from 1998-1999 at the Chicago-Kent College of Law. Judge Moore clerked from 1995-1997 for the Hon. Glenn L. Archer, Jr., Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and was an Associate at Kirkland & Ellis from 1994-1995. From 1988-1992, Judge Moore was employed in electrical engineering with the Naval Surface Warfare Center. Judge Moore received her B.S.E.E. in 1990, M.S. in 1991, both from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and her J.D. (cum laude) from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1994. Judge Moore has written and presented widely on patent litigation. She co-authored a legal casebook entitled Patent Litigation and Strategy and served as the Editor of The Federal Circuit Bar Journal from 1998-2006.

Honorable Sharon Prost, *Circuit Judge, CAFC

Sharon Prost, Circuit Judge, appointed by President Bush, 2001; B.S., Cornell University, 1973; M.B.A., George Washington University, 1975; J.D., Washington College of Law, American University, 1979; L.L.M., George Washington University School of Law, 1984; Labor Relations Specialist, United States Civil Service Commission, 1973-76; Labor Relations Specialist/Auditor, United States General Accounting Office, 1976-80; Field Attorney, Federal Labor Relations Authority, 1980-83; Attorney, Internal Revenue Office, 1983-84; Assistant Solicitor, Associate Solicitor, Acting Solicitor, National Labor Relations Board, 1984-89; Chief Labor Counsel (Minority), Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources, 1989-93; Minority Chief Counsel, Deputy Chief Counsel, Chief Counsel, Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate, 1993-2001.

Honorable Kathleen O'Malley, *Circuit Judge, CAFC

Judge O'Malley was appointed to the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio by President William J. Clinton on October 12, 1994, at the age of 37. Prior to her appointment to the bench, Judge O'Malley served as First Assistant Attorney General and Chief of Staff for Ohio Attorney General Lee Fisher from 1992-1994, and Chief Counsel to Attorney General Fisher from 1991-1992. From 1985-1991, she worked for Porter, Wright, Morris & Arthur, where she became a partner. At Porter, Wright, Judge O'Malley's emphasis was on complex corporate and commercial litigations, including intellectual property disputes. Similarly, from 1983-1984, she was an associate at Jones, Day, Reavis and Pogue, where she practiced complex corporate litigation, with the majority of her work centering on intellectual property litigation. During her fifteen years on the federal bench, Judge O'Malley has continued to develop her expertise in intellectual property matters and has become an internationally recognized authority on patent litigation. Her experience with patent litigation is both broad and deep. As a judge, she has presided over in excess of 100 patent and trademark cases at the district court level and sat by designation on the United States Circuit Court for the Federal Circuit. As an educator, Judge O'Malley has regularly taught a three credit-hour course on Patent Litigation at Case Western Reserve University Law School; she is a member of the faculty of the Berkeley Center for Law & Technology's program designed to educate Federal Judges regarding the handling of intellectual property cases; she has presided over numerous mock-Markman hearings for students and practitioners; and she has served as a presenter and panelist at numerous national and international conferences regarding all aspect of patent litigation. Judge O'Malley is also actively engaged in the advancement of intellectual property law as a board member of the Sedona Conference; as the judicial liaison to the Local Patent Rules Committee for the Northern District of Ohio; and as an advisor to national organizations publishing treatises on patent litigation (Anatomy of a Patent Case, Complex Litigation Committee of the American College of Trial Lawyers; Patent Case Management Judicial Guide, Berkeley Center for Law & Technology). She is a regular speaker and panelist at conferences sponsored by the Federal Circuit and the Federal Circuit Bar Association, where she has addressed a broad range of topics, including emerging legal issues and trends in the patent field at the district court level, the Federal Circuit, and the Supreme Court.

Judge O'Malley began her legal career as a law clerk to the Honorable Nathaniel R. Jones, Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in 1982-1983. She received her J.D. degree from Case Western Reserve University School of Law, Order of the Coif, in 1982, where she served on Law Review and was a member of the National Mock Trial Team. Judge O'Malley attended Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio where she graduated magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa in 1979. Her majors were honors history and economics; she graduated in both with distinction.

Philip Johnson, *Chief Intellectual Property Counsel, Johnson & Johnson

Philip S. Johnson is Chief Intellectual Property Counsel for Johnson & Johnson, having joined the corporation in January 2000 after 27 years in private practice serving clients including Johnson & Johnson. In this position, he oversees about 100 patent and trademark attorneys in the US & Europe, and advises Johnson & Johnson's top management on patent matters relating to its 200 plus operating companies worldwide.

Phil is currently the Immediate Past President of the IPO Education Foundation, Chair of the Board of Directors of the American Intellectual Property Law Education Foundation, Chair Emeritus of the PhRMA's IP Focus Group, and Member of the Steering Committee of the Coalition for 21st Century Patent Reform. Phil is also a member of the Executive Committees of the Board of Directors of the Intellectual Property Owners Association and INTERPAT (Past President), and is Past President of the Association of Corporate Patent Counsel. He is active in a number of bar associations, including AIPLA (current Board nominee).

Before joining Johnson & Johnson, Phil was a senior partner and co-chair of litigation in the intellectual property law firm of Woodcock Washburn in Philadelphia, where he specialized in intellectual property issues affecting major pharmaceutical, medical device and consumer product companies. Phil has served as trial counsel in over 100 patent cases, including over 50 resulting in reported decisions of the federal district courts and/or of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

Phil is a frequent speaker, and has testified before both the House and Senate Judiciary Committees in each of the last three Congresses on the subject of patent law reform. Phil received his Bachelor of Science degree, cum laude with distinction in biology from Bucknell University and his J.D. degree from Harvard Law School, where his third year advisor was now-Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer.

John Duffy

Tom Goldstein

Thomas C. Goldstein's practice is focused on Supreme Court litigation. He has argued 22 cases before the Court on a diverse array of federal law questions. In the Supreme Court and elsewhere, Mr. Goldstein litigates and advises clients in a broad range of issues. Among his specialties is the First Amendment, which has been at the heart of many of the cases he has briefed and argued. In addition to practicing law, Mr. Goldstein teaches Supreme Court litigation at Stanford Law School and Harvard Law School. Mr. Goldstein also founded and publishes SCOTUSblog, which in 2010 became the only weblog ever to receive the American Bar Association's Silver Gavel Award for fostering the American public's understanding of law and the legal system.

Mr. Goldstein has been repeatedly recognized as a leading member of the bar. In 2010, The National Law Journal named him one of the 40 most influential lawyers of the decade; Mr. Goldstein notably was ten years younger than any other law firm partner listed. Legal Times named him one of the "90 Greatest Washington Lawyers of the Last 30 Years" and praised him for "transforming the practice" of law before the Supreme Court. Mr. Goldstein is also included on the most recent lists of the 100 most influential lawyers in America (The National Law Journal); the 50 most influential people in Washington, D.C. (GQ); the leading appellate lawyers in Washington, D.C. (Legal Times); and the 30 best lawyers in Washington, D.C. (Washingtonian). He has also been recognized as a leading lawyer in 2010 by Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business in the area of appellate law.

Mr. Goldstein is involved with a number of professional organizations. He was appointed by the president of the ABA to its Standing Committee on Amicus Curiae Briefs, and he also serves as the vice chair of the Amicus Committee of the ABA's Intellectual Property Section. In those capacities, he has authored several Supreme Court amicus briefs for the ABA. In addition, Mr. Goldstein serves on the boards of advisors of the Washington Legal Foundation and the Georgetown University Supreme Court Institute.

David Pritikin, *Partner, Sidley Austin LLP

David T. Pritikin is a partner in the Chicago office, chairs the firm's national intellectual property practice and is a member of the firm's Executive Committee. He is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers and has an active practice concentrated in the field of intellectual property. Mr. Pritikin has served as lead counsel in many high profile patent cases, including more than a dozen Hatch-Waxman cases involving important pharmaceutical products. In addition, he has represented software, semiconductor and medical device manufacturers in patent lawsuits. His experience includes jury and bench trials in the federal courts as well as trials in the International Trade Commission and arguments before the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Honorable Randall Rader, *Chief Judge, CAFC

Randall R. Rader was appointed to the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by President George H. W. Bush in 1990 and assumed the duties of Chief Circuit Judge on June 1, 2010. He was appointed to the United States Claims Court (now the U. S. Court of Federal Claims) by President Ronald W. Reagan in 1988. Chief Judge Rader's most prized title may well be "Professor Rader." As Professor, Chief Judge Rader has taught courses on patent law and other advanced intellectual property courses at George Washington University Law School, University of Virginia School of Law, Georgetown University Law Center, the Munich Intellectual Property Law Center, and other university programs in Tokyo, Taipei, New Delhi, and Beijing. Due to the size and diversity of his classes, Chief Judge Rader may have taught patent law to more students than anyone else.

Chief Judge Rader has also co-authored several texts including the most widely used textbook on U. S. patent law, "Cases and Materials on Patent Law," (St. Paul, Minn.: Thomson/West 3d ed. 2009) and "Patent Law in a Nutshell," (St. Paul, Minn.: Thomson/West 2007) (translated into Chinese and Japanese). Chief Judge Rader has won acclaim for leading dozens of government and educational delegations to every continent (except Antarctica), teaching rule of law and intellectual property law principles. Chief Judge Rader has received many awards, including the Sedona Lifetime Achievement Award for Intellectual Property Law, 2009; Distinguished Teaching Awards from George Washington University Law School, 2003 and 2008 (by election of the students); the Jefferson Medal from the New Jersey Intellectual Property Law Association, 2003; the Distinguished Service Award from the Berkeley Center for Law and Technology, 2003; the J. William Fulbright Award for Distinguished Public Service from George Washington University Law School, 2000; and the Younger Federal Lawyer Award from the Federal Bar Association, 1983.

Before appointment to the Court of Federal Claims, Chief Judge Rader served as Minority and Majority Chief Counsel to Subcommittees of the U.S. Senate Committee on the Judiciary. From 1975 to 1980, he served as Counsel in the House of Representatives for representatives serving on the Interior, Appropriations, and Ways and Means Committees. He received a B.A. in English from Brigham Young University in 1974 and a J.D. from George Washington University Law School in 1978.
